

Atlanta-Berean Adventurers Make History

Adventurer participants return from a "critter hunt."

The Atlanta-Berean Adventurer Club recently became the first Adventurer club in South Atlantic history to hold an eight-day campout.

The Berean Chariots camped out, June 20-27, at Little Ocmulgee State Park in McRae, Ga. The week's activities included distributing tracts, making crafts, earning awards, swimming, pedal boat riding, hiking, critter hunting, and other educational and social activities.

The group also assisted with Sabbath school at nearby Dublin First church and was in charge of divine worship and the youth program. The night ended with a talent show at the campsite's amphitheater.

Participating the entire week were

Adventurers Kathryn Hughes, Stephen Mascoe, II, DaShawn Moses, Allayna O'Quinn, and Taylor Scurry. Leading were Jannie Dupree, director; Stephen Mascoe, Sr., associate director; Lessie Scurry, Eager Beaver director and Adventurer staff member; Anita Hughes, counselor; Rachel Abrahams, Pathfinder; and Joshua Dupree, volunteer.

Joining the group during the week were Eager Beavers Chiyedza Mvundura, NaKymbria Stewart, and Felice Watson; Adventurers Jasmine Johnson, Melanie McCall, Tawanda Mvundura, and Jerome Pondexter, II; Wilma Bryant, North Georgia area coordinator; Mercy Mvundura, counselor; Jerome Pondexter, Sr., chaplain; Vickie Watkins, Pathfinder deputy director; and Adventurer and Eager Beaver parents.

Adventurers work on an honors badge.